ATHENS, March 11.—(AP)—The Greek government today reported the smashing of armed rebel opposition in Macedonia, the capture of 3,000 rebel soldiers, and the virtual end of the Macedonian rebellion.
The light cruiser, Helle, originally built in the United States for the Chinese government and second vessel in the rebel fleet, was reported in a message to the ministry of marine to be in government hands again in the port of Kavala.
The crew of the Helle reported by radio, as announced by the ministry:
"The Helle at 4:20 a. m. the cruiser was abandoned at 3 a. m. by all her officers on the active list. We place ourselves at the orders of the government's fleet and are waiting with steam up for instructions."
Officers, Thrown Overboard.
The further reported that it had thrown its officers, accused of ordering the ship into the rebellion, overboard into the harbor.

SALONIKA, Greece, March 11.—(AP)—Under pressure from government troops, the Greek rebels retired today, after desultory fighting, to the old line occupied by the Bulgarians during the World War, running from Drama to Demirhisar around the spurs of the Balkan mountains.
Here they are using the old Bulgarian-German trenches with concrete shelters and powerful earthworks which military experts declare make them almost invulnerable.
The rebels have been forced to evacuate Seres, which is located on a broad plain without natural protection, but they said they intended to make a determined stand in Drama, where high hills already have been heavily fortified by the rebels.
It is believed here that a num-

NINETEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL HOLDS KEY ROLE NEW YORK CLEANUP

EXPECTED TELL GRAND JURY
NAME OF VICE OVERLORD
WHOSE IDENTITY SOUGHT

NEW YORK, March 11.—(AP)—A 19-year-old girl, caught in the web of commercialized vice, stood forth in a key role today in the city's efforts to pry the lid off New York's powerful vice and policy rackets.
She was directed by District Attorney William C. Dodge to expect before the grand jury a story of four weeks of captivity in the hands of a white slave syndicate in Brooklyn, and to disclose the name of one of the city's vice overlords whose identity is sought in the current sweeping investigation.
Her appearance before the grand jury shared immediate interest with the little black book of Polly Adler, notorious night life operator, who was scheduled for trial today on a vice charge growing out of a raid on her place last week.
The book was reported to contain the names of several widely known Broadway figures among

RICHBERG CHARTS REVAMPED NRA

Rumblings of senatorial protest left doubt about the future of the administration's new 17-point plan for a two-year extension of the NRA in a form that would code only those industries engaged in interstate commerce. The plan was outlined to the senate finance committee by Donald R. Richberg, NRA chief, shown in typical poses as he appeared before the group. (Associated Press Photos)

A sleet storm hit Pampa at dawn which was followed by snow. There was rain during the night and precipitation already amounted to an inch. The moisture was regarded as highly beneficial to the wheat crop.
Snow flurries whitened the Plainview region. Rain fell there during the night.
Rain and hail fell at Lubbock last night. Skies were threatening there and more rain was in prospect.

ANNUAL COST CODES OPERATIONS PLACED AT $41,000,000

SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE
HEARD ADMINISTRATOR
RICHBERG AGAIN MONDAY

By NATHAN ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)
WASHINGTON, March 11.—(AP)—The annual cost of operating the NRA's vast code structure was estimated at $41,000,000 today by Donald R. Richberg.
The recovery co-ordinator gave this figure to the senate finance committee, where he occupied the witness stand for the third successive session.
Senator Byrd (D-Va.) frequent administration critic, asked about the cost of operating the NRA's 700 codes. Richberg said he would furnish a detailed list, but estimated the aggregate at $41,000,000 a year or less than one per cent of the sales involved.
Clark (D-Mo) asked if the code authorities in raising this money were exercising the right, in effect, to levy taxes.
"I don't think they have the authority," Richberg said, explaining that in most cases he believed the costs were met by voluntary contributions.
Richberg told the committee if it endeavored to go into every complaint the work could not be

HAVANA, March 11.—(AP)—Five bodies of persons killed in Cuba's wild week-end of fighting were found today in the exclusive residential suburbs of Marianao as Havana itself lapsed into a trace-like calm under a "state of war."
The discovery of the bodies in Marianao, and the death of a wounded man in a hospital brought the total known dead for the week-end to ten. The man who died in the hospital was Miguel Aracil. One of the bodies found was identified as Juan Maria Munoz, a former soldier, and another was identified as that of Enrique Fernandez, former sub-secretary of the interior in the fallen government of Dr. Grau San Martin and one of the leading figures in the Authentic party.
Havana streets were practically deserted except for patrols of soldiers and sailors. Many of the stores which opened for the day were without their clerks and the shopowners themselves transacted what business there was.
One of the day's few disorders was the looting by an unidentified group of men of the weekly magazine Tangana.
Although railroad men were on strike, soldiers forced a train crew at Camaguey to take a train into Havana. A bomb, was exploded in the fiscal zone building at Camaguey.
HAVANA, March 11.—(AP)—The government of President Carlos Mendieta, seizing a weapon forged more than a year ago by one of its enemies, declared existence of a state of war throughout Cuba today in its grim battle to escape overthrow.

DEPRESSION IS DEFINITELY ON WAY OUT; MUCH OPTIMISM SEEN IN BUSINESS REPORTS MONDAY

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(AP)—A series of economic pronouncements combined today to throw a capital glow of optimism that has appeared in many a day.
1. Declaring production in March has been "definitely ascending," the Chamber of Commerce of the United States said that "if the trends of the first week persist, the results from the month will demonstrate a continuation of substantial improvement over a four-month period." Unless the surface of the business gloom continues to be disturbed, it said, 700,000 workers will have obtained jobs between Jan. 1 and March 31.
2. The American Federation of Labor's monthly survey of business said that, under the ruffled surface of the business gloom, currents of revival are steadily gaining strength. It declared that total income of workers as a group "has been slowly increasing for some time." It said that there has been "a real increase in total workers' buying power." It added, however, that because of rising living costs, "the last two months have not raised the general standard of living" and "the average worker who has a job is actually worse off in real income than he was two years ago."
3. Members of the securities and exchange commission hailed what they hoped was a new harbinger that the frozen stream of capital is thawing. This was a $45,000,000 refunding bond issue by the Pacific Gas & Electric Company, the largest issue yet to be registered under the securities act. Although the proceeds will be used

AMARILLO MAN AND SISTER-IN-LAW ARE FOUND SHOT DEATH

AUSTIN WOMAN KILLS HUSBAND AND SELF AT HOME
MONDAY MORNING

AMARILLO, March 11.—(AP)—Lawrence W. Hurdle, 28, of Amarillo, and his 17-year-old sister-in-law, Arlene Bellamy, of Ashtola, Tex., were dead today as a result of what officers termed a "suicide pact."
The bodies were found Sunday afternoon on the bed of a tourist camp seven miles west of Amarillo.
Miss Bellamy lay in Hurdle's arms and a 22 calibre automatic pistol was on the quilt which covered the bodies. Both were fully dressed and a bullet had pierced the temple of each.
Coroner Charles W. Carter's verdict of "murder and suicide" did not say which person he believed did the shooting.
"We have talked it over and this is the only way out," read a note signed "Lawrence" and addressed to his wife. Two notes signed "Arlene" also were found. One was addressed to Mrs. Hurdle and the other to her family. A fourth note, signed "L. W. H." was addressed to a friend.
Miss Bellamy had lived with the Hurdles for about six months. The couple registered at the

PLACED AT 25,000

Working of the Texas Society for Crippled Children were presented to members of the Navarro county commissioners' court Monday morning by Brice Twitty, business manager of Baylor Hospital in Dallas and active worker in the organization. He was presented by Mrs. H. G. Brown, local representative of the society. No definite requests for assistance were made to the court at the Monday meeting.
Mr. Twitty told the court that the Texas Society for Crippled Children was composed of Texas business men and women who were interested in the welfare of the 25,000 crippled children in the state, and were supporting their rehabilitation by memberships ranging in cost from $2 to $5.
He reported that surveys made of the state by co-operating agencies had placed the number of

Six Young Men Believed Lost On Ice Drive

STURGEON BAY, Wis., March 11.—(AP)—Hope of six young men who disappeared while driving across the treacherous ice on the Green Bay Des Moines passage to Washington Island, was virtually abandoned today when gloves and a hat were found in open water near the ice road.
Plum Island Coast Guardsmen expressed the belief that the men drove off the path and broke through the ice. The men left Sturgeon Bay on a trip over the passage which joins the mainland and the island, at 11 a. m. Sunday.
Passengers in the machine were Ralph Wade, 30; John Cornell, Jr., 21; Raymond Richter, 19; Roy Stover, 20; Leroy Elanson, 20, and Norman Nelson, 20.

SENATE REJECTED PROPOSALS STATE LIQUOR MONOPOLY

TWO PLANS CONNECTED WITH REPEAL VOTED DOWN
BY HEAVY MAJORITIES

AUSTIN, March 11.—(AP)—The Texas senate today rejected by heavy majorities proposals for a state monopoly over liquor sales if prohibition were repealed next August.
Having previously opposed a monopoly in a test vote, the senate today further prohibition consideration temporarily voted to print on minority report a proposal to increase the sulphur tax, and then took up a suggested $3,000,000 appropriation for the Texas Centennial.
A plan of Senator Joe Hill of Henderson to submit with the question of repeal, a mandatory referendum on the issue, was defeated first in the senate, 18 to 5, with two pairs. Then the senate rejected, 19 to 5, Senator Grady Woodruff's proposal to submit the dual proposition to repeal with or without a monopoly.
Senator Olan R. Van Zandt of Tioga, however, immediately sent up another substitute for the original repeal resolution by Senator Weaver Moore of Houston, giving regulatory authority to the legislature, providing local option and banning open saloons.
Criticized Allred.
The sulphur bill, increasing the levy from 75 cents to $2 a ton and supported by Governor James V. Allred, had been unfavorably reported by a house committee.

DECISION OF GOVERNMENT TO USE GOLD PROFITS TO REDUCE PUBLIC DEBT GIVEN APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(AP)—The government's decision to use part of its $2,812,000,000 dollar devaluation "profit" to reduce the public debt led to conflicting interpretations today.
The treasury held that the "total amount of outstanding currency should not be changed" as a result of the plan to retire some government bonds with $62,000,000 of the profit arising from trimming the dollar's gold value last year.
On the other hand, Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) a leader of the currency expansion bloc in congress, forecast a $49,000,000 increase in the amount of money in circulation.
Declaring that for the first time, the public debt will be cut by the issuance of government obligations "which bear no interest," Thomas praised the move by saying:
"It is along the lines of what we have been clamoring for."
He also praised the plan as a step toward one, single type of currency and the concentration in the hands of the government of the power to issue money.
Under the treasury plan, the national banks will lose the power to issue currency against certain government bonds, a right which national banks have been created after the Civil war. The bonds to be retired are the 2 per cent "consols" of 1930 and the 2 per cent Panama canal bonds of 1916-33 and 1918-35, which national banks have been

MARKET LOST OVER NINE DOLLARS PER BALE EARLY TRADING

LATE RALLY BRINGS PRICE
TO WITHIN $6 PER BALE OF SATURDAY'S CLOSE

NEW ORLEANS, March 11.—(AP)—After breaking more than $9 a bale on the belief that the government would not continue the 12-cent loans, cotton futures here today staged a rally and in the late afternoon trading prices were holding at about $6 a bale under Saturday's closing prices.
For a time it appeared that trading would be suspended in the May contract, as that position dropped five to ten points on each sale and came within 50 cents of the $10 a bale price swing allowed by the exchange.
Short covering came into the market, however, and profit taking by professional checked the decline as the market rallied from the lows.
The dumping of cotton was considered to be an attempt to anticipate the removal of the government's price peg loan of 12 cents a pound now in effect on the American staple.
Liquidation was too heavy for the small amount of buying orders in the market and the break continued unchecked until the maximum decline was almost attained.
In the closing hour of trading, May was selling at 11.17, off 98 points; July at 11.25, off 95 points, and Oct. 11.05, off 88 points, as compared with Saturday's final prices.
Trading was extremely nervous.
NEW YORK, March 11.—(AP)—The most violent break in several years, cotton futures prices plunged down from $7 to $8 a bale a day before trade buying stemmed the decline, and opened the week for a rally.
The rebound lifted the market about $3.50 to $4 a bale above the

Detroit Priest to Answer Johnson On Air Tonight

DETROIT, March 11.—(AP)—The Rev. Father E. Coughlin will have his inning on the air tonight to answer Gen. Hugh S. Johnson's references in a speech last week to the radio priest and Senator Huey Long. Father Coughlin was working today on his formal reply to General Johnson.
Aside from the announcement that he would make the reply, the Rev. Father Coughlin made no reference to the former NRA chief in his regular Sunday night broadcast. He did, however, reply at length to what he termed implication "that a priest's place is at his altar."

SENATOR WAGNER DEFENDS HIS LABOR BILL IN COMMITTEE

NEW YORKER SAYS MEASURE WOULD DO MUCH BALANCE
ECONOMIC SYSTEM

By JOSEPH L. MILLER
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)
WASHINGTON, March 11.—(AP)—Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.) told the senate labor committee today that his labor dispute bill would do much to round out "a balanced economic system."
The first witness to testify at the opening of hearings on his measure, the New Yorker said:
"Our alternatives are clear. If we allow section 7-A (of the recovery act) to languish, we shall be confronted by intermittent periods of peace at the price of economic liberty, dangerous industrial warfare and dire depressions."
"On the other hand, if we clarify that law and bolster it by adequate enforcement agencies, we shall do much to round out the program for a balanced economic system founded upon fair dealing and common business sense."

SOVIET RUSSIA SELLS CHINESE EASTERN RAILWAY TO JAPANESE PROTECTED-STATE MANCHUKUO

By GLENN BABB
Associated Press Foreign Staff.
TOKYO, March 11.—(P)—The historic documents in which Soviet Russia sells the full title of the Chinese Eastern railway to Manchukuo for 140,000,000 yen—currently about $39,300,000—were initiated tonight at the official residence of Koki Hirota, foreign minister.

The written approval of the agreements, signaling the elimination of Russia as a political factor in Manchuria, were signed by Hirota, by Dr. Constantine Yourenoff, Soviet Ambassador to Japan, and by Gen. Tetsu Shih-Yuan, Manchoukuo minister of finance.

Their initials concluded 20 months of tortuous bargaining and rang down the curtain on four decades of Russo-Japanese contentions for the domination of the territory which Japan made into "the independent empire of Manchukuo."

The agreements require that all three governments approve them before their formal signing about March 23 when Manchoukuo—through Japan's South Manchuria railway—will assume possession of the historic railway system.

The documents initiated tonight were:
1. A Russian-Manchoukuo agreement selling the railway.
2. A Russian-Japanese exchange of notes in which Japan guarantees that Manchoukuo will fulfill the terms of payment.
3. A tripartite protocol providing the machinery for the settlement of disputes which may possibly arise from the provisions permitting Manchoukuo to make its payment two-thirds in goods.

A FARMER DISCUSSES CITY LIFE

"Twice in a country barber shop and I was in the chair. Half dozing while the barber ran the clippers round my hair, When two old fellows gossiping an-
Attracted my attention, and I heard one ancient say To his whimsical companion in a very earnest tone:
"Did you ever spend a winter in the city all alone?"

"You haven't! Well, then, listen for a minute now to me. You've no idea how dreadful and how long some life can be.

Out here we know each other and we pass the time of day. And we say good night and morning a cheerful sort of way. But once you're in the city you can come and go for weeks
Among a million people but nobody ever speaks.

"They sent me to a rooming house and it was nice and clean. But no one asked me where I'd been, or asked me what I'd seen.

They knew that I was working and they knew I paid my bills. But they were all too busy seeing shows and hearing thrills. And tending to their own affairs to even notice me. Or wonder why I well or not or share my company.

"A stranger in the city can a lonely stranger stay. For city folks don't neighbor in the good old-fashioned way. They couldn't hire me back again."

With this he closed his tale: "I'd rather spend the winter in the county court-house jail."

And though I chuckled hearing him, I felt ashamed that he had such a harsh opinion of my city and of me.

RUTH TO BOSTON AGAIN

Although Babe Ruth is not allotted a niche in Who's Who's hall of fame, the man whose swat of the baseball was heard around the world for two decades is still a considerable figure in American life. Moreover, the "old legs willing," he is not done yet. Unconditionally released by the New York American League
Yankees, the Babe will go back to Boston town this season as player, assistant manager and vice president of the National League Braves.

It is 21 years since Ruth first came to prominence as a big league player. He was then a southpaw pitcher in the same Boston to which this season he will return. In his fifteen years with the Yankees he is said to have received an aggregate salary of close to $900,000, to which he added an estimated million from contracts with movies, radio and feature syndicates. Starting with the Yankees at $20,000 a year, his salary reached a maximum of $80,000 a year, making him by all odds the highest salaried player in baseball or any other sport eve, has known.

What the Babe will receive in the way of salary from the Boston Braves has not been announced. It has been said that his salary will be about $25,000 a year, a player and assistant manager, with a percentage of the receipts and an option to buy stock of the Boston Braves "at a reasonable figure." When with the Boston Red Sox, Ruth became baseball's young sensation. And when with the Yankees he built the Yankee Stadium. Perhaps with the Braves he will become "aseball's" veteran sensation. But that is in the lap of the gods and the joints and muscles of the Babe's "old age."

GAS TAX USE.

The first gasoline tax was imposed in the United States 11 years ago. It was levied in Oregon, to finance highways. Soon all the states adopted it, and finally the federal government got in on it.

It has been an easy tax to collect, and its use for the construction of fine highways seemed to justify it from the start. It has been a remarkable revenue producer, bringing in a total of $4,620,044,133 in the 16 years.

The question has arisen lately whether some of this steady income should not be diverted to other purposes—relief, schools, and so on—for which funds have dwindled to the vanishing point. The money is there, advocates of such diversion say. It comes easily. There are enough good roads for the present. Why not continue this tax but spend it in other ways? This has been done in many places, but over the protests of citizens who believe it takes an unfair ad-

STILL IN HIS HAIR!

"GOOD TIME CHARLIE"

Fallen upon hard times, with collectors instead of Broadway Santa Claus knocking at his door, James J. Walker, former mayor of New York City and of late an expatriate in Europe's pleasant watering places and capitals, says he intends to come back to America next fall.

"I didn't mind being a good time Charlie when I had money," he went on. "When I went out to California on behalf of Tom Mooney I got a swell surprise when I found that I had been charged with just about everybody's expenses at the hotel. It was that way everywhere I went. But those days are over now."

Soon or late, "those days" usually are over for every good time Charlie. In this respect, Jimmie Walker is no exception. When the money is gone, friends go, too. There was a time when more than one rich New Yorker would have been glad to place a few securities in Jimmie Walker's name and strong box. But "those days" are over. Jimmie Walker and his pea green coat are only memories now on Broadway. On the metropolis' thoroughfare more quickly than anywhere else, good time Charlies of yesterday are succeeded by good time Charlies of today.

It is a pity that a man of James J. Walker's unusual opportunities—he was mayor of New York when only 44—has nothing but his "good time Charlie" days to remember. If he had served his city and his public as he might have served, his life would still be ahead of instead of behind him. Perhaps he can come back and yet make good. He has abilities enough.

vantage of the motorist. Do we have enough good roads? Are they wide enough? Are they kept in good condition? Should highway construction include highway beautification and the building of sidewalks to take pedestrians out of the motor traffic? It is likely that the gas tax has not always been wisely or efficiently spent even for its original purpose. But all that doesn't go far toward answering the increasingly insistent question of diversion of this tax.

"Russians Get More Soap" says a headline. There will be 67 per cent more produced this year than last. But the careless reporter fails to say what the Russians will do with the soap.

A CHALLENGE GAME

With pardonable pride officials of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, who make the rules for football, announce that there will be no important changes next year in the regulations governing the game. It is the first time in the football committee's history, which covers thirty seasons, that such a statement could be made.

Yet a slight change in wording of the "dead ball" rule may portend dramatic changes for football. For the prevention of injuries the rule-makers decided some years ago that the ball is "dead" when the runner's forward progress is checked by an opponent. Next autumn officials are to be lenient in enforcing this rule, allowing the runner "a somewhat greater opportunity to break away or make a pass."

Undoubtedly the committee is making allowances for the lateral pass, a maneuver appropriated from English Rugby. In that game it is by no means enough to stop the man, because the ball is likely to go on in another player's hands. Possession of the ball is still of prime importance in the American game, so that lateral passes are not likely to be tossed about with the abandon of Rugby. But the committee thinks that the lateral pass adds enough excitement to football to deserve a little encouragement under the rules of the game.

SMART BOY

An examination prepared by the Farm Credit Administration included a couple of trick questions put to applicants for jobs. The nifties were "How long is a piece of string?" and "How far can a dog run into the woods?" The applicant was expected to write "No answer" after each of these.

But an Iowa university student, taking the examination, replied to the first, "A piece of string is twice as long as the distance from the center to either end, and to the second, "A dog can run only half way into the woods. After that he is running out."

It is our idea that the master mind who invented the questions should be fired forthwith from the public service and the Iowa youth installed in his stead. If the first requisite in employees of the FCA is not familiarity with credit and farm conditions, but a barber shop wit, then plainly the applicant is faster at it than the Brain Trusters who formulated the examination. SLAYER OF FAMILY
DIES IN ELECTRIC
CHAIR ARKANSASMARK H. SHANK EXECUTED;
CONVICTED OF POISONING
FOUR IN 1933

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark., March 8.—(P)—Mark H. Shank, 43, former Ohio magistrate died in the electric chair at 7:14 a. m. today for the poisoning of a family of four in Saline county, Ark., in August, 1933.

Before 50 persons who jammed the electrocution chamber, Shank maintained to the end the calm indifference which marked his residence of more than a year in a condemned cell.

He made no statement. Tall, thin and sharp-featured, Shank seated himself in the chair at 7:05 and five charges were turned on in quick succession. He was pronounced dead by the three attending physicians at 7:14 o'clock.

His death warrant, the fifth issued by this state, called for execution at dawn, but a bright sun was well up and streaming through the narrow windows of the death chamber when his body was unceremoniously from the chair and carried out.

Was Convicted in 1933. He was convicted late in 1933 for the murder of Alvin Colley, a professional gambler who with Mrs. Colley and two Colley children died after drinking poisoned grape juice which Shank served at a picnic lunch.

Shank said in a reputed confession shortly after his arrest that Colley had attempted to blackmail him in connection with a case pending in Ohio. Shank had practiced law in Akron for 15 years and was once a suburban magistrate.

Four-year-old Clyde Colley was the only member of the family to survive. He related to Shank as the "man who put something in the grape juice" and on the child's statement Shank was charged with murder.

Shank pleaded insanity but was convicted and the death penalty was fixed.

Shank's attorneys tried vainly to force a mistrial. He contended he had become insane in prison. However, on the eve of his execution, Shank shook off a year-long stupor and talked to the warden.

His wife aided his defense at the trial. She collapsed when the verdict was returned. Because of illness she was unable to come here to see her husband before the execution.

Wife Collapsed On Hearing of Death

AKRON, O., March 8.—(P)—Mrs. Mark Shank, the tall, thin woman, exhausted after her 18 months' futile fight to save her husband from the electric chair, collapsed today when told of his death. She is in a serious condition.

Fleeing from friends, Mrs. Shank for refuge in a sister's home in Akron, according to Attorney Blake Cook.

Refusing to eat and unable to sleep, Mrs. Shank has been under the care of two trained nurses for the last two days.

She sent her last message to her husband Wednesday night, before she knew that Friday morning had been set as the execution time.

The only survivor of the tragedy, 5-year-old Clyde Colley, did not know that the murderer of his father, mother and two brothers had paid the penalty for the crime.

His new parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Crow of Creston, near here, who knew how nervous any mention of the tragedy makes the little boy, were careful to keep word from him about Shank's execution.

OFFICERS CONTINUE
INVESTIGATION OF AUTOMOBILE THEFT

County and city officers Friday were continuing their investigation into the theft of an automobile belonging to E. W. Ellis and company, local Chevrolet dealers, early Thursday afternoon.

The automobile was stolen from in front of Rev. and Mrs. H. J. Ellis' residence on North Fourteenth street, early in the afternoon after it had been parked there by E. W. Ellis. The car was missed a few minutes later. The car was found wrecked at the intersection of the Southern Pacific Lines tracks and the South Fifteenth street extension pavement. The car was reported to have crashed into a concrete marker at the site of the accident.

C. T. Ingam of Houston was named in a formal complaint filed Thursday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Jack Floyd before Judge W. T. McFadden for alleged auto theft. The man named in the charge received a number of injuries including a broken nose, sprained right shoulder, a number of bruises and abrasions and the loss of several teeth. The injuries were said to have been sustained in the crash.

The accused man was rushed to the P. and S. Hospital in a Corley ambulance and after receiving first aid treatment, was taken to the county jail by county officers. An examining trial will be held in the case within the next few days and the evidence is scheduled to be presented to the Navarro county grand jury.

Wardrobe Demonstration.

Style trend emphasizes necklines and sleeves this spring. Straight skirts with fullness put in by using inverted pleats are smart, states Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist from A. and M. College, in a joint meeting of Hill and Navarro county wardrobe demonstrators at the Baptist church in Frost, March 6.

Big sleeves have returned but their bigness has gone from the top to the bottom. Soft or more feminine neck-lines are the Vogue at present, says Mrs. Barnes.

The Wardrobe demonstrators practiced cutting the Bishop Bell, Dolmon and Raglin sleeves under the supervision of Mrs. Barnes.

Wardrobe demonstrators from six clubs were present at the meeting as follows: Irene and Mertens from Hill county, with Whites Chapel, Oak Valley, Blue Ridge and Jones Ranch from Navarro county. Miss Maude Lackey, home demonstration agent from Hill county and Miss Ruth McNabb, home demonstration agent from Navarro county, were also present.

Winkler.

The Winkler Home Demonstration Club met March 5, at Mrs. Letha Massey's and was called to order by the president.

Miss McNabb was with us and checked on the foundation patterns that were finished and gave a good talk on foundation patterns, and the advantage good sewing is to the home, which we all enjoyed.

It was decided to send Mrs. Gerty Lou Burleson, our wardrobe demonstrator to Frost Wednesday to a meeting of the wardrobe demonstrators.

We decided to meet at Mrs. W. D. Anderson's, March 13, to finish our patterns. All come that don't have their patterns and bring lunch.

The next regular meeting will be March 19, at Mrs. Myrtle Massey's. There being no other business we adjourned.

BILL FOR ISSUANCE
REMAINDER RELIEF
BONDS IS PASSEDMEASURE FOR ISSUANCE AND REALLOCATION SENT TO GOVERNOR FRIDAY

AUSTIN, March 8.—(P)—A bill to issue an additional $3,500,000 in state relief bonds and reallocate $1,500,000 from bonds previously sold was sent to Governor James V. Allred today when the house concurred, 122 to 7, in a conference committee report previously adopted by the senate.

The bill directed that most of the funds be used to relieve distressed unemployed since the federal government has announced it would care for those physically able to work through its labor relief program. It contained a provision, however, whereby the state could use a portion of its funds for work relief.

The board of control could use $750,000 in March and a like amount in April with $400,000 to be spent in each month from May through November and $700,000 held in reserve for December.

A provision to retire the bonds from an increased tax on race wagers was eliminated. Likewise the committee removed the $200 limitation on administrative salaries. Four per cent of the funds could be used for hospitalization of tuberculosis.

Sale of the bonds would deplete Texas relief funds. The $3,500,000 is all that remains from an original authorization of $20,000,000 approved at a special election in 1933. Thus no plan has been advanced to provide relief funds when the bond money is exhausted.

Rep. J. N. Reed of Texarkana asked the house to reject the report as the expenditure of 35 per cent of the funds for work relief would be mandatory but his motion was rejected.

INTENSIVE SPRING
BUILDING CAMPAIGN
NOW BEING PLANNEDIMPORTANT MEETING OF
GROUPS INTERESTED IN BUILDING INDUSTRY

Plans for an intensive spring home modernization campaign in Corsicana and Navarro county will be outlined at a meeting of the various groups interested in building trades activities at the City Hall next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when Hubert McPeak, field representative of the Federal Housing administration, will be the principal speaker.

Representatives will probably be named from the Tuesday session of one of the series of district meetings being held in the state where all of the campaign will be outlined and co-operative features stressed and explained.

Chris J. Knox, county chairman of the campaign, recently announced a number of committees, preparatory to the launching of an active campaign in this area. Work has been under way on the project for several weeks and the efforts are expected to crystallize into definite action following the general meeting next week.

The committees follow: Executive committee: F. W. Smith, Festus A. Pierce, W. M. Spear, and A. F. Mitchell. Publicity: Charlton Gunter.

Advisory group: A. A. Allison, Max D. Almond, I. N. Carl, E. W. Ellis, J. N. Edens, J. W. Edens, Ted E. Ferguson, Cecil Foster, J. N. Garitty, Beauford H. Jester, Lowry Martin, Davis Neese, F. C. Paul, W. H. Norwood, N. Suttle Roberts, Jay Silverberg and County Officials of the Federal Housing administration report that up to February 27, a total of 3,069 modernization loans had been made under Title I of the federal act, involving a total of $182,058.42; they also report that it is estimated that for every $1 spent under FHA loans at least $5, privately financed, has been done by concerns along lines closely resembling the setup of the federal agency.

MINORITY REPORT ON SULPHUR TAX IS ORDERED PRINTED COMMITTEE MEMBERS RE- SENT REMARKS GOVERNOR ON BILL REJECTION

AUSTIN, March 11.—(P)—The Texas house of representatives voted 83 to 40, today to print on minority report a bill to increase the production tax on sulphur from 75 cents to $2 per ton. The bill received a 1-4 unfavorable report from the revenue and taxation committee.

A purported statement by Governor James V. Allred, in support of the sulphur tax, concerning the action of the committee in recommending the bill unfavorably, was severely criticized by Representative Walter Jones of Jourdanton, chairman. Allred was quoted as saying that the members of the committee, Representative Bob Alexander of Childress, supported Representative Bob Calvert of Hillsboro in his unsuccessful leadership race against Speaker Coke Stevenson.

"I wonder if anybody would reach the conclusion that this was a stacked committee," Jones said. "I'm sorry the governor saw fit to leave the insinuation that any power in this house inspired the vote in the committee. It was a fair hearing and the members of the committee and distinguished chief executive about a committee of this house."

Jones called attention that Representative J. Franklin Sparks of San Antonio, author of the sulphur tax, supported Stevenson and is Allred's friend and floor leader in the sulphur tax increase fight. Alexander voted against the increase.

"The speaker's race was supposed to have ended January 8 and I'm tired of being embarrassed about it," Calvert said. "What ever has been said should have no bearing on the sulphur tax. Let's forget the speaker's race and vote on this bill on its merits."

Sparks said he had just conferred with the governor and that the governor was sorry if he had "hurt anybody's feelings."

CUBA

Sons created for acts against the public order, prohibits all persons from appearing on the streets at night without a special military pass and gives the military powers almost unlimited authority.

The decree is one used for the first time in Cuban history by order of Dr. Antonio Guiteras, secretary of war in the cabinet of former President Ramon Grau San Martin in Nov. 1933, at the time the Grau government was beset by difficulties akin to those the Mondetta regime now faces.

The official announcement of the move said the cabinet had decided to put into force "decree number 2581, signed and promulgated by Martin as president and Dr. Antonio Guiteras as secretary of war and interior."

The cabinet's action in mentioning Guiteras by name was regarded as confirmation of reports that the government's former war secretary is a leading factor in the outbreaks which have harassed the populace as well as the administration for the last two days.

Full Effect of Strike Felt.

The full effect of the fast-spreading strikes were felt this morning after the week-end's suspension of commercial activity.

Railroads and all other transportation facilities were paralyzed. The government's business was at a standstill, since most of its employees have left their posts.

Only two newspapers were publishing, Diario de la Marina and Avance, and virtually every other line of commercial activity was at a standstill.

Last night's disorders although scattered and somewhat less violent than the uproarious shooting and bombings of Saturday night, continued to keep the city on edge.

Baby Is Wounded.

A two-year-old baby was wounded in the course of the night's disturbances, and the headquarters of the national medical federation were wrecked.

Spontaneous sniping at soldiers, police firing into buses and scattered bombings occurred. Soldiers, sailors and police clashed with a group of youths in front of the American-owned hotel President, flogging the young men with shavelengths and losing after several shots were fired.

The bodies of a radical student and his father-in-law were thrown into a fashionable street near the residence of United States Ambassador Jefferson Caffery. However, their bodies brought to the known fatalities in the week-end's disorders.

Traders said they were unable to account for the sudden slump in the absence of new developments in the cotton market, but brokerage circles were inclined to attribute at least a part of the selling to uncertainties of the government's plans for loans on the new crop and disappointing demand for cotton textiles.

Jury in Outlaw Case Deadlocked After Many Hours

AUSTIN, March 11.—(P)—Jurors trying N. C. Outlaw and C. M. Loe for obstruction of justice during investigation of the machine gun slaying of a federal narcotic agent, were still deadlocked this afternoon.

The jury at noon requested a copy of the charge delivered by Federal Judge William H. Atwell at the conclusion of evidence in the case last Saturday, when the jury began its deliberations.

The charge had been given orally by Judge Atwell, necessitating the jury waiting until it could be transcribed by the court reporter.

Outlaw, West Texas attorney, who allegedly had offered Loe, Post druggist $500 to let a federal grand jury he witnessed the shooting of the narcotic agent, Spencer Stafford, by Sheriff W. F. Cato of Garza county at Post Feb. 7. The sheriff pleaded self-defense.

children handicapped at 25,000 with about 80 per cent of them who could be cured or greatly aided by proper surgery and hospitalization and thus rehabilitated. He stated that the fund had been conducted by the society at Tyler, Mexia, Dallas, Austin and San Antonio in the past few years and hundreds of children examined and recommendations made for treatment.

1500 Children Treated.

Mr. Twitty reported also that more than 1500 children had been treated and cured by the society. He pointed out that the backers of the project preferred to do the work through memberships rather than by a tax because it was a labor of love. A majority of the incompetents were reported members of families who were not able to give their children proper treatment, and in many instances came from rural sections.

The speaker said that the work was sanctioned by the governor and the state department of education, and that no workers were paid from the membership fees. He said that one man in the organization received remuneration and he was employed by the department of education. Mr. Twitty pointed out that after the surgery is administered the children are given special vocational training by the state to enable them to be self-supporting.

Photos Exhibited.

A number of actual photographs of children before and after proper treatment were passed around the courtroom, as the visitor stated that the society aided in the work of paying a flat rate for the hospital care of $18 per week.

Mrs. Brown reported to the court that five children from Navarro county had been aided by the society. She also commented on the fact that the annual fund of the society was available in Corsicana and stated that further plans along this line would be discussed later, as well as the possibilities of a free clinic for handicapped children.

After the meeting Mr. Twitty stated that according to available records more than 200 children with physical handicaps were living in Navarro county at the present time.

The court invited the representative to return at a later date with definite suggestions for partnership in the work, and stated that the would be given careful consideration.

Over the years his annual departure south from the Rockefeller estate at Pocantico Hills, was delayed by a heavy cold.

To guard against colds or possible pneumonia, every inch of his body was wrapped in a heavy blanket. The Casements are thickly carpeted, and his bathroom as well.

He rises at 10 a. m., retires at 9 p. m. Aside from the present cold, friends close to the Rockefeller family reported no more than at any time in the past two years, and his mind is sharp and alert.

They say he is happy, content, satisfied now to coast serenely to his century of years.

LABOR BILL

The Wagner bill is supported by the American Federation of Labor and the national labor relations board but opposed by many industrialists.

It would create a permanent national labor relations board with power to carry its decisions to court for enforcement.

Make a part of the law the "majority rule" by which a majority of employees in any plant would select the collective bargaining agency for all employees.

Outlaw the company-dominated union.

Francis Biddle, chairman of the labor relations board said recently it was necessary to make that board's work effective.

ALL COUNTY COTTON

COMMITTEES AND

ALTERNATES MEET

All Navarro county cotton committees and alternates were in Corsicana Monday for a school of instruction on 1935 rules and regulations of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's cotton acreage reduction program. The session was held at the Corsicana Public library and lasted the greater portion of the day.

The instructions for the new season were taken up and discussed in detail, and plans made for starting work the latter part of this week. All supplies have not yet been received and the new work will begin as soon as they arrive.

Producers will be required to submit sworn figures on their 1934 production as a part of the new contract.

IMPATIENT RELIEF SEEKERS OKLAHOMA PLAN CAPITAL TRIP

SPEND WEEK-END IN COURT-HOUSE; ADMINISTRATOR IS ADAMANT

McALESTER, Okla., March 11.—(P)—Oklahoma's National Guard stepped into the "hunger strike" situation today in the role of salaried men during a day's rationing for 1,000 persons.

Upon arrival here, two officers with a detachment of seventeen men conferred with county and city authorities, concerning the situation over 100 methods of distributing the food.

Efforts to provide work relief met with only lukewarm success. Out of 100 unemployed called to work on the McAlester stadium Saturday only about 35 reported.

The "hunger strikers" camping in the courthouse "until we get food, clothing and work" were cheered by the announcement of City Manager Berlin Thompson that Governor Marland had authorized 1000 meals to be served to the hungry at his personal expense.

Meanwhile two carloads of representatives of the hunger strikers left for Oklahoma City to seek aid of Governor Marland and the legislature.

McALESTER, Okla., March 11.—(P)—Out of patience with the passive "hunger demonstration" of 250 unemployed men and women at the Pittsburg county courthouse here, a group of jobless prepared today to go to Oklahoma City to lay their case before Governor Marland and the legislature.

Rather than a "hunger march" the proposed trek would be a "hunger ride." Since the group first gathered Friday organizers have sought contributions to pay for gasoline and oil for the trip. Old trucks and cars were being pressed into service.

Apathy pervaded the courtroom where the main group of demonstrators has spent three nights. Again they expressed their determination to go to the state capital for definite relief—food and clothes and jobs.

Equally emphatic has been the word of John Eddleman, Oklahoma relief administrator. The unemployed must return to their homes before being granted aid, he has said. Case workers must investigate each client.

Mrs. Viola Watson, grayling 55-year-old leader of the passive relief, continued her efforts "to keep the situation under control" today as she led her followers in singing hymns, and in prayer.

The group has not been entirely without food. Citizens have donated some rations; others have given small sums of money.

HUGE RELIEF BILL
DEBATE CONTINUED IN SENATE MONDAY

WHETHER LONG WILL AT-TEMPT TO IMPEDE CONSID-ERATION NOT YET KNOWN

WASHINGTON, March 11.—(P)—Facing a hazard in the person of Huey Long, the $4,850,000,000 work relief bill aroused more debate in the senate today with Austin (R-Vt) favoring recent committee modifications.

Whether Long would impede the bill by reiterating his demand for investigation of Postmaster General E. A. Tamm was a question.

The Louisiana senator was apparently pondering his tactics, as Austin explained why he was ready to change his position on the Roosevelt-opposed "prevailing wage" amendment to the relief measure.

Now he was ready to oppose it, saying the bill had been transformed from a "violation of the constitution into a valid transaction."

He originally reported, Austin said the bill called upon congress to make an "unconditional grant of power" to the President.

GREECE

bor. The ministry ordered the vessel to proceed to the gulf of Salonika.

The government dispatches did not mention a single clash with the rebels but painted a picture of a rapid series of capitulations and surrenders of villages into the government's hands.

These reports said that the revolutionary officers and regiments of their commands were fleeing eastward from Macedonia while the rebels were being driven to government forces.

Serres, where the government troops met unexpected resistance last night, was reported by General George Kondylis, minister of war, to have been abandoned early this morning before the advance of his forces who marched triumphantly into town.

Later advices said Drama, Kavalla, and a host of smaller rebel centers had capitulated. Demetrios Kamanos, who had been variously reported suing for peace and fleeing to Alexandropolis to board a rebel ship, was stated to be fleeing toward Gumyrylia.

The rebels withdrew from Serres morning after morning, taking place at 7:30 a. m. local time (12:30 a. m. E. S. T.) as the government troops were preparing to launch a simultaneous attack from three points west of the insurgents' line.

At the same time a secondary engagement was reported to have taken place west of Struma river Tsagzel.

Government troops advanced. Shortly after the rebels evacuated Serres, the government troops said, capture of the town was made complete, a detachment of cavalry entering its streets at the head of the main body of government troops.

Government advices from Salonika said General Demetrios Kamanos, the insurgent commander, his hopes for success shattered, was planning to abandon Kavalla also.

The government was informed that civil officials and police were about to proceed from Salonika to take over their posts in Serres.

A delegation of townspeople welcoming the advance guard of government troops as they entered Serres informed the loyalist officers that the insurgents had all fled.

A short time later word was received by the government that loyalist troops also had taken Demirhisar, another rebel stronghold.

Surrender Overtures Rumored.

Unconfirmed reports said the insurgents had evacuated Drama and that the rebel general Kamanos has made overtures for surrender.

Guards averted what might have been a serious clash at the Athens railway station when 40 officers from the Salonika garrison were arrested on charges of conspiring with the rebels.

They were brought here. Soldiers boarded a troop train started a demonstration manifesting their hostility to the prisoners and some citizens attempted to break through police lines before the guards succeeded in restraining them.

Word received by the government said 3,000 rebel officers and soldiers have surrendered to the loyalist troops, while others are leaving their commands to shift for themselves and fleeing northwards toward the Turko-Bulgarian border.

Unofficial reports said the casualties in the bitter fighting of the last 48 hours total 4,000 for both sides.

The dead lay where they fell, the bodies dotting the bleak terrain of the Dorian Lake and Demirhisar.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY BUSINESS INCREASE

GAIN OF OVER FORTY-THREE THOUSAND PHONES IN SER-
VICE OVER 1933

ST. LOUIS, March 11.—(P)—Another Southwestern Bell business barometer recorded improvement today with publication of the 1934 report of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company showing an increase of $2,765,680 in operative revenue.

Gross operating revenues for the year were $70,419,068 compared with $67,662,388 in 1933. Total operating expenses were increased 3 per cent, from $45,109,662 to $46,417,450, but net earnings were $16,165,413 as compared to the previous year's $15,117,035.

Illustrating that earnings were based on more than company gains, the report showed a gain of 43,904 phones in service, as compared to 1933. This was the first similar gain shown since 1930 but falls short of subscriber losses suffered since the slump began last year.

The company's net losses were 137,897 telephones in 1933. A total of 132,982 in 1932, and 50,007 in 1931.

A total of 685 exchanges are operated by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas and a small portion of Illinois adjacent to St. Louis. Some of the exchanges furnish service to more than one city or town.

LEGISLATURE

Representative Walter Jones of Jourdanton sharply denounced repeated criticism by the governor of the committee's action.

Representative Jeff Shinson of Dallas, sponsor of the bill, said appropriation measure, arched the time was ripe for such a celebration and the outlay in money would be repaid many times by resulting development of the state.

Measures were introduced which the bill issuing the remaining $3,500,000 in relief bonds and budgeting that sum and $1,500,000 previously appropriated for February to cover the needs for the months from March to December, inclusive.

More Seed Loans Sought.

The governor applied to Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator, for $500,000 supplementary for seed loans to farmers under the rural rehabilitation program.

The senate passed a bill permitting the state to issue revenue bonds for extension of additions to gymnasiums and stadia, sending the measure to the house.

Senator Tom DeBerry of Bogalusa was granted five-fifths majority passage to introduce a bill cancelling all taxes delinquent prior to January 1, 1930, making effective a constitutional amendment adopted several years ago.

and providing that certificates might be issued to show full payment of taxes.

Senator Will D. Pace of Tyler obtained passage within an hour after introduction of a bill authorizing the general land commissioner to quit-claim two acres of land to the Troup Independent school district.

Allred Signs Bond Bill.

AUSTIN, March 11.—(P)—Governor James V. Allred today signed a bill to authorize issuance of $3,500,000 relief bonds remaining of a $20,000,000 issue in 1933. The bill budgeted expenditures through the remainder of this year.

Senate Invites Johnson

AUSTIN, March 11.—(P)—General Hugh Johnson's staunch defense of the national administration today prompted an invitation by the Texas senate for him to address the legislature.

The invitation, drafted by Senator John W. Hornsby of Austin, praised Johnson's courage and statesmanlike qualities and commended him for having "taken up and answered criticisms of those who denounce and oppose" the administration.

The invitation was sent to the house for approval.

Prohibition Main Legislative Subject

AUSTIN, March 11.—(P)—The forty-fourth legislature for the second half of its four-month general session today with prohibition still a torrid subject of discussion.

All last week members debated whether to submit to the people, along with the question of repeal, a proposal to control the liquor traffic in the event of repeal, by a state monopoly. On adjournment they apparently were as far from agreement as at the beginning.

There appeared to be little opposition to an election on retention or modification of state constitutional prohibition, but there were sharply divergent views on submitting liquor regulation to the voters, leaving regulation to the legislature.

Over the week-end, Governor James V. Allred, in addition to urging action on his tax measures, repeal of the race betting law and curbing gas wastage, suggested that the legislature let the people know what sort of liquor regulation would be had if prohibition were repealed. Himself a prohibitionist, Allred said that if prohibition were repealed the profit should be taken out of the business.

The natural course of the white matter, insofar as the legislature was concerned, lay through more debate, adoption of conflicting plans by house and senate probably early in the week, and a conference committee to adjust differences, with probably a renewal of argument over the conference report.

Outlaw and Loe Convicted Federal Court Jury Today

DALLAS, March 11.—(P)—N. C. Outlaw, West Texas attorney, and C. M. Loe, were convicted this afternoon on conspiracy to obstruct justice during a federal grand jury investigation of the killing of a federal narcotic agent, Spencer Stafford, at Post, Texas, Feb. 7.

Federal Judge William H. Atwell sentenced Outlaw to serve 15 months in Leavenworth penitentiary and pay a $2,500 fine for allegedly bribing Loe, Post druggist, to give false testimony to the grand jury.

Loe, whose testimony formed the basis of the government's case, was sentenced to 12 months in the county jail, but was released on probation by Judge Atwell.

ber American aviator in Serres managed to escape before the fighting there began, although no word had reached here concerning the man's fate.

Today's operations, the government entered all its airplanes, which total only 27. The machines dropped only occasional bombs and they landed in open spaces and caused no casualties.

Governor-General Rallis of Salonika told me that the rebel cruiser, Helle, after bombardment by government planes, hoisted a white flag and surrendered.

"This is the beginning of the end. On the field, we are meeting no resistance. I am sure our aviators will eventually locate the Averoff (flagship of the rebel fleet) and either sink or destroy her."

Several American correspondents are bottled up here, the Greek government having refused to grant them permits to leave the country.

GHEVGHETLI, Greek-Yugoslav Frontier, March 11.—Greece entered the eleventh day of its revolution today with apparently no sign of signs of reaction when the insurrection began.

Government infantry, artillery and airplanes continued to harass the rebels along the Demirhisar-Serres front without decisive results.

Reports circulated that government troops had captured Serres, but these reports were discounted by observers of the situation here. It is still uncertain whether the loyalist forces have even crossed the city's defenses.

In Athens the cabinet appeared to be in a dilemma, not knowing whether General George Kondylis, commander of the loyalist forces, should attack the rebels with all his five divisions of the national army, or should wait until the rebels are in a position to disrupt their morale.

The government was seemingly hesitant to test the loyalty of its soldiers and aviators. In the opinion of some observers, fearing that they too may join the revolutionaries.

Situation Obscure.

In the absence of impartial and reliable reports from the front, the whole situation remains obscure and uncertain. Both sides claim overwhelming victories. Not a single American or foreign correspondent has succeeded in reaching the government or rebel lines, although British

BEAUTY CHATS

A STIMULATING TREATMENT

STIMULATE! STIMULATE! The whole secret of keeping young lies in almost constant stimulation of the skin, at least after the age of 20 or 35. Miss Forbes tells about it today in the Chats.

This treatment is not only for quick results, but for your permanent good. And it is so simple a treatment that you can combine it with any other system of bettering your looks that you may have adopted. It will not interfere; it will simply add to any other treatment's value. And it is a good way of getting your complexion over the wrinkled dryness that sometimes occurs after the cold winter weather.

E. K. Forbes

It is a good thing to start it before your bath, but not necessary. You get yourself some fine almond oil; an ounce will do you any number of times, and if you haven't time to buy the almond oil, do your first few treatments with olive oil from your kitchen cupboard.

Wring a small towel out of hot water and hold it over your face. I find those small Turkish towels that go with bath sets ideal for this. As the towel cools, wipe over the face to remove powder and rouge. Wring the towel from hot water again, and hold over the face, and repeat a third time. Even a fourth, if you need it. Your skin should be flushed a bright red from the moist heat.

This is to open the pores, cleanse the skin and chiefly to bring up the blood to the face. It is this stimulation which is the most valuable part of the treatment. Now, the pores being open, soak the skin with oil—use a lot of it, rub it in quickly with your fingers, and put on more to form a thick coating over the face and down the throat. If you have your bath now, this gives you a chance to let the oil soak into the skin, while the face remains hot. If you are not bathing, try to arrange it so you can give the oil at least a quarter of an hour to remain on the face. Do your nails, or use hair tonic on your scalp, or find yourself any odd job that will occupy your time

Mrs. M. B.—Pimples that suppurate should be treated with an antiseptic to keep the surrounding skin from being infected. When this care is not taken, there is danger of numerous outbreaks all over the skin. It is an easy matter to treat each pimple separately, as the cleansing of each may be done with small pieces of cotton, and the antiseptic applied. A protective coating may then be used over each outbreak. A sullying ointment gives protection, and it is healing, because it is also antiseptic.

The wanted man did not show up Thursday and a formal theft complaint was filed in Judge McFadden's court.

LEY BALL SUB-TO BE HELD

Under the direction this year of Director General M. F. Boyd, of Phillips Chapel, the Navarro County University of Texas Interscholastic League, field and literary meet will see a number of innovations in the methods of its running. Foremost among them will be the five sub-county district meets, which are to be held before next Saturday, and at which time the eliminations in declamation, playground ball and volleyball will be held.

Each year the large number of entries in these three events makes the meet unwieldy, and it takes almost two days to complete the playground ball and volleyball. Under the new method the first and second place winners in the events will compete from the five districts.

Contestants of the districts include Emhouse number 1; Frost, number 2; Dawson, number 3; Currie, number 4, and Kerens, number 5.

Director General Boyd announced the following winners at the sub-county division number 4 meet at Currie Saturday, for certification to the county meet:

Division Four Winners:

TORY OF KILLING
TWO KIDNAPERS NOT BELIEVED BE TRUE

EL PASO, Texas, March 11.—(AP)—Skeptical officers today discredited the story of Samuel Wayne Brown III that he had slain two men and left their bodies beside a road near Brown. An all-day search for the bodies failed to locate them.

Brown was released by Sheriff Chris P. Fox of El Paso county and advised to return home. Brown had surreptitiously taken two bullet holes in his car as "proof" of the shooting he described. Officers could find no blood stains on the car.

Sheriff Fox discussed the case with Brown's uncle, W. F. Payne, of North Pleasanton, who said he advanced Brown $250 to search for buried treasure in Mexico. Brown claimed the two men he shot had kidnaped him in San Antonio.

CLAYTON POTTS' LEG
BROKEN AS RESULT OF AUTO ACCIDENT

Clayton Potts is in the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic, suffering from a broken left leg as a result of an automobile accident one and one-half miles south of Corsicana on Highway 75 Saturday night.

The leg was broken just below the hip. Potts said a car driven by a negro crashed into his automobile, and that his feet became fastened between the clutch and brake, causing the severe crushing of his leg when the door was crashed by the impact. No one else was injured. The automobiles were badly damaged.

Potts formerly was a halfback on the Corsicana High school "tiger" team, concluding his high school career in 1926.

TWO NEW TEACHERS

Superintendent W. H. Norwood of the Corsicana public schools announced Monday that two new teachers have been added to the faculty of two Corsicana grade schools, to fill recent vacancies.

Miss Lucille Abraham, of Dallas, a graduate of the University of Texas, was elected to fill the vacancy left by the recently untimely death of Miss Turner Mae Garner. Miss Abraham will teach third grade geography in the Sam Houston school.

Miss Edna Pearl Carder, of Waxahachie, a graduate of Trinity University, was elected to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Miss Elizabeth Blackshear, in the Robert E. Lee school.

SONS OF VENIZELLOS
SAYS FATHER PLANS
CRETE INDEPENDENCE

PARIS, March 11.—(AP)—Two sons of Former Premier Bleutheros Venizelos of Greece said today at their homes here that their father would maintain the independence of Crete and continue the Greek revolution even if the revolutionary forces in Macedonia are defeated.

The two sons are Sophocles and Kyriodol Venizelos. With other exiled countrymen they are living in a Paris hotel, watching the progress of the rebellion in their native land.

"Father's strength is chiefly in Crete and not Macedonia," said Sophocles. "The Macedonians are rallying to our cause to show his popularity, and the government is difficult to show the weakness of Gen. Kondylis, the Greek minister of war."

"Crete, which once was independent, now is independent again. We have not yet shown the strength of our hand, but Father is organizing Crete and will use the government's own ships to rid Crete of its incompetent regime."

"The revolution was not organized by father, but army and navy officers, dissatisfied with the feeble government, asked father to lead them. Father agreed after he saw the country suffering."

"Kyriodol and I already have attempted to reach Crete but we have been unable to persuade aviators to risk the dangerous journey. Perhaps father will facilitate our journey by capturing Athens."

PIONEER NAVARRO
COUNTY RESIDENT WAS BURIED SUNDAY

Mrs. Addie Jane Raley, aged 74 years, pioneer resident of Navarro county and resident of Corsicana for the past six years, died at 1017 West Fifth avenue Saturday night at 11:30 o'clock after a lingering illness and the funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Brushy Prairie. Mrs. Raley was the widow of the late W. A. Raley.

Surviving are two sons, J. L. Raley of Corsicana and Floyd Raley of Hubbard; a daughter, Mrs. K. A. Blakney of Corsicana and several grandchildren.

HALF OF REGULAR SESSION OF
TEXAS LEGISLATURE PASSED AND MAJOR PROBLEMS YET UNSOLVED

AUSTIN, March 9.—(AP)—Texas legislators entered the second half of a 120-day regular session today with virtually all of the troublesome problems of state confronting them unsolved.

Bills and proposed constitutional amendments had dropped into the hopper at a faster rate than in previous sessions, proposed laws, if enacted, would affect every type of citizen.

Committees working steadily through afternoons and nights had studied and recommended passage of about half of the 1,100 bills and 60 proposed constitutional amendments. Very few had been killed by committees.

Liquor and relief held the state stage at mid-way. House acceptance of a conference report on a bill to authorize sale of $3,500,000 state relief bonds (the last of $20,000,000 issue approved in 1933, removed legislative barriers to its transmittal to the governor next week.

As the state funds diminished, relief officials spent advanced federal grants to feed and clothe the state's destitute. Legislative delay on the bill caused a shortage of state funds, for the bill also rebudgeted for use during March and April of $1,500,000 previously allocated for February.

The $3,500,000 would spread over the remaining months of 1935. An agreement of houses on a liquor plan in event of prohibition repeal appeared further away after days of wrangling than at the outset. Week-end adjournment carried the warmly debated subject over to next week with preferential parliamentary position.

The issue was sharply drawn between factions desiring to write into the constitution mandatory provisions for a state monopoly, and those who wanted to leave specific control plans to the option of succeeding legislatures.

The monopoly system lost an important vote today, but advocates reshaped it to obviate parliamentary barriers and girded for another fight. They would place distilled liquor under that type of control, but permit sale of fermented beverages by private dealers.

A senate faction modeled their proposal in still another fashion. They would prohibit sale of liquor for private profit, thereby forcing a monopoly. A third senate proposal would submit a monopoly as an alternative.

Calendars of procedure, laden by bills reported by committees, became more severely clogged as both houses debated prohibition.

NRA CRITICS PREDOMINATE ON SENATE SUB-COMMITTEE HAVING INVESTIGATION UNDER CONTROL

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(AP)—The sub-committee in charge of the senate's NRA investigation decided today to invite Clarence Darrow, chairman of the review board which criticized the recovery administration's policies, to submit his views to the finance committee.

Because of his health, Darrow was not placed on the list of witnesses to be definitely called, but the committee decided to offer him an opportunity to testify if he wished. Lowell Mason, who was secretary of the review board, will be called, however.

The directing subcommittee in charge of the inquiry decided also to call S. Clay Williams, retiring chairman of the recovery board; Sidney Hillman, a member of the board; Leon Henderson, economic advisor to the board and Francis Biddle, chairman of the labor relations board.

The decision to call Biddle was believed to indicate the committee proposes to go deeply into the question of enforcement of section 7-A, labor's collective bargaining guarantee.

Donald Richberg, director of the National Emergency Council, has not completed his testimony and will be recalled to the stand when the inquiry resumes Monday. Williams probably will follow him.

Richberg has instructions to recommend to the committee which codes he believes should be dropped. Yesterday he listed a dozen which have been partially or entirely suspended, covering several million employees, but was preparing a more specific recommendation to be submitted next week.

That the NRA faces hot debate in the senate was apparent today in view of a bitter attack on it from both sides of the aisle. Senator Borah (R-Idaho) opened the attack with a demand for full and vigorous enforcement of the anti-trust laws and a distribution of wealth.

Senator Glass (D-Va) chipped in with language even stronger than Borah's.

PAT RAMSEY NAMED
GENERAL SECRETARY
YMCA THIRTY DAYS

WILL TRY OUT WORK HERE
PRIOR TO DECIDING ON PER-
MANENCY OF SELECTION

Pat Ramsey, former Y. M. C. A. executive at Sherman, Beaumont and other points, was elected general secretary of the Corsicana Y. M. C. A. for 30 days at a called meeting of the board of directors at 10 o'clock Monday morning. Mr. Ramsey came here directly from Beaumont, and will begin his campaign immediately. It was pointed out at the meeting that after 30 days if Mr. Ramsey and the directors are pleased with the work accomplished, his position will be made permanent.

Edward M. Polk was chairman of the committee upon the selection of a general secretary, and recommended Mr. Ramsey's election. The committee pointed out he is well qualified and comes highly recommended to the Corsicana Y. M. C. A.

Appearing before the directors, Mr. Ramsey said he believed Corsicana has the best equipped Y. M. C. A. plant in the south, and since nothing is owed either on the building or property, it has an excellent background for the worthwhile activities. He said the outlook is optimistic.

W. P. McComman reported that his committee had completed its building rehabilitation work except for the building's heating plant, and that would be made in the near future.

The directors unanimously elected W. T. McElwee as chairman for the advance subscription committee, and he, working with President Ted B. Ferguson, will soon make arrangements for the drive, which will be known this year as the "Y. M. C. A. Rehabilitation Campaign."

All the directors expressed an optimistic outlook for the work of the Y. M. C. A. and it is hoped in the near future the Corsicana organization will be the most active in the state.

Shirley Temple At Palace Thursday

That bundle of screen magic, five-year-old Shirley Temple, will soon be thrilling and delighting her army of local movie fans in a new picture. Reports from other cities indicate that in "The Little Colonel," Fox Film has given her an ideal vehicle for her acting, singing, and dancing talents. It will come to the Palace theatre on Thursday.

She co-starred with Lionel Barrymore in this popular story of Southern prejudices, adapted from Annie Fellows Johnston's series of "Little Colonel" stories, which were the favorite reading of millions a generation back, and whose appeal is perennial.

"The Little Colonel" is the story of a Kentucky belle who marries a Yankee, against her father's wishes, and is promptly disowned by the proud old aristocrat, who is still living in the days of the Civil War. Barrymore is the obdurate Southern aristocrat. Shirley plays the cameo colonel whose dancing feet, smiling eyes, and honey-colored curls make a withering attack on the heart of the stern rebel.

In keeping with the importance of this picture, Technicolor graces part of this De Sylva production. The real Shirley as she really looks is seen for the first time by her following of movie fans.
